[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION GROUNDS, June 29.—Moorefield Storey, of Boston, former president of the American Bar Association, and Congressman Bourke Cockran, of New York, made patriotic speeches at the celebration of Commonwealth Day, the 131st anniversary of the adoption of the Bill of Rights, as drawn by George Mason June 29, 1776, and which subsequently became the first Constitution of Virginia.

"The Constitution of the United States is as nearly perfect as any product of human wisdom. The enforcement of it is what is needed. I am opposed to any change in the Constitution," declared Mr. Cockran, in his address. His subject was the "Constitution—Whether or Not It Should Be Changed," and he handled it without gloves. He said he opposed anything that would place more power in the hands of the Federal government, and declared that the States are able to take care of themselves.

He scored those trying to bring about a change in the Constitution that would place more power in the hands of the President of the United States, and urged the enforcement of the Constitution as it now stands. "Any method of changing the Constitution to increase the power of the Federal government by executive action is usurpation," he declared. "If there is to be a change, the amendment should be made by the people."

Mr. Storey also dealt with the tendency that now exists to extend more power to the Federal government. He discussed at length whether or not the government should have more power, or whether the States are not, within their province, better able to handle their own affairs. It was his opinion that they are.

HEMPHILL FOR SENATOR.

Gifted Editor of Charleston News and Courier Considered Senatorial Timber.

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION GROUNDS, June 29.—The work of making a United States Senator for South Carolina was begun in Virginia yesterday. The new Senator, should the designs of the workers be carried out, is to be none other than Major J. C. Hemphill, the gifted editor of the Charleston News and Courier. Those who have undertaken to shape Major Hemphill's destiny are Editor T. B. Waring, of the Charleston Post, Mayor R. G. Rhett, of Charleston, and Speaker Richard S. Whaley, of the

How to Exercise the Bowels

YOUR Intestines are lined inside with millions of suckers, that draw the Nutrition from food as it passes them. But, if the food passes too slowly, it decays before it gets through. Then the little suckers draw Poison from it instead of Nutrition. This Poison makes a Gas that injures your system more than the food should have nourished it.

The usual remedy for this delayed passage (called Constipation) is to take a big dose of Castor Oil.

This merely makes slippery the passage for unloading the current cargo.

It does not help the Cause of delay a trifle. It does slacken the Bowel-Muscles, and weakens them for their next task.

Another remedy is to take a strong "Physic," like Salts, Calomel, Jalap, Phosphate of Sodium, Aperient Water, or any of these mixed.

What does the "Physic" do? It merely flushes-out the Bowels with a waste of Digestive Juice, set flowing into the Intestines through the tiny suckers.

Cascarets are the only safe medicine for the bowels.

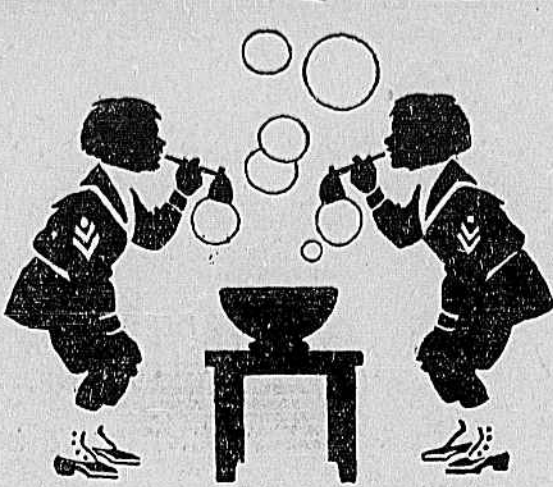

They do not waste any precious fluid of the Bowels, as "Physics" do.

They do not relax the Intestines by greasing them inside like Castor Oil or Glycerine. They simply stimulate the Bowel-Muscles to do their work naturally, comfortably, and nutritiously.

They are put up in thin, flat, round-cornered Enamel boxes, so they can be carried in a man's vest pocket, or in a woman's purse, all the time, without bulk or trouble.

The time to take a Cascaret is not only when you are Sick, but when you first suspect you need one. Price, 10c a box.

Be very careful to get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "CCC." All druggists.

Dabney's Special Joint Committee in No Hurry to Inquire, Etc.

The suggestion that a tracer be sent out after the special joint committee which was appointed some time ago to inquire into the possibility and desirability of reducing the membership of the City Council or establishing a board of control, has not yet come from any member of either branch of the Council.

Some interest in the fate of the proposition to revolutionize the system of government is evinced by the general public and some curiosity is expressed by citizens who desire information concerning the operations of the special joint committee, of which Alderman W. T. Dabney is chairman.

THE COMMITTEE IS YET TO HOLD ITS FIRST MEETING.

The resolution with which the committee has to deal calls for an amendment to the charter, so as to authorize the proposed change in the system of government.

The principal aim and object is to place the municipal government in the hands of a few capable business men of unimpeachable character and integrity, who will be paid salaries commensurate with their ability.

The committee is subjected to the call of Chairman Dabney. A great many eyes are upon the chairman. A great deal of comment has been provoked by his tardiness in calling a meeting—News Leader, June 29th.

South Carolina House of Representatives, here for South Carolina Day at the exposition.

Editor Waring is credited with saying that it has been definitely decided that the veteran editor of the News and Courier should be elected to succeed Senator Ashburn C. Latimer, and that he will be a practical certainty. Senator Latimer is known to be a candidate for re-election.

MEXICAN BAND.

President Diaz, of Southern Republic, Assigns Organization to Exposition.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION GROUNDS, June 29.—The famous staff band of Mexico has arrived at the exposition. This band, consisting of forty-one pieces, was assigned to the exposition by President Diaz, of the Republic of Mexico, and will remain here for several weeks.

The band is next in importance to the Mexican republic to the Presidential Band. It is under the leadership of Lieutenant Nabor Varquez, and is extremely strong in its make-up. It has been making a start for the exposition. They arrived yesterday morning at Newport News, coming across the Roads soon after.

The exhibit from the other parts of the State has been shipped to the exposition and will be loaded there for Jamestown.

First Church of Christ at Home. The First Church of Christ, Scientist, will worship for the first time this morning under its own roof, the congregation making the first use of the new structure at the corner of Park Avenue and Meadow Street. The building is not entirely finished, and all of the interior woodwork has not been installed, but by the use of chairs, the building can be used until the remainder of the work is finished. The congregation has been holding their services for some time at Belvidere Hall.

FAREWELL SERVICE TO-DAY.

Dr. Hawthorne to Preach Last Regular Sermon at Grove Avenue.

One of the services this morning which will attract more than usual attention, will be the farewell of Rev. Dr. J. B. Hawthorne to the Grove Avenue congregation.

The service will be held at 11 A. M., and there is no doubt that a large number of the friends of the retiring pastor will be present.

The occasion not only marks Dr. Hawthorne's retirement from Grove Avenue, after a successful pastorate covering the past eight years, but also marks his retirement from the active pastorate. Dr. Hawthorne stated that he does not expect to enter upon active pastoral work again, although he will preach as opportunity offers.

A number of Dr. Hawthorne's friends in Richmond have formed a sort of association, and have assured him of a permanent support, and he will continue to preach from time to time. The arrangements, however, did not carry with it any official position, nor will he be connected with any one church.

WILL ENCOURAGE TRADE EXPANSION

Government to Aid Cotton Manufacturers in Foreign Market.

SPECIAL AGENT PUT TO WORK

After Careful Study of Conditions He Appeals to Spinners.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.—An exhaustive investigation into the cotton goods export trade of England has just been completed by William Whitlam, Jr., special agent of the Department of Commerce and Labor, who spent several months in the Lancashire district. Following a plan which has been of great value in other countries, Major John M. Carson, chief of the Bureau of Manufactures, has arranged that Special Agent Whitlam shall make a tour covering the principal cotton manufacturing centers of the country, in conference with manufacturers on the question of export trade expansion. The special agent will take with him samples of cotton goods procured in Lancashire that are in large demand in nearly every country in the world, and which will be examined and explained. Transportation and methods of doing business abroad will be gone into, and suggestions from millmen looking to further investigations invited for consideration by the department.

Special Agent Whitlam left for the South to-day, and will be in Atlanta from July 22 to July 26th; Greenville, S. C., July 28th and 29th; Spartanburg, S. C., July 30th and 31st; Charlotte, N. C., July 12th and 13th, and Greensboro, N. C., July 14th.

The latter were not read, and will be offered in evidence on Monday, when Friedman will continue his testimony.

Discredited Harry Orchard. Aside from the introduction of Morris Friedman, the defense also offered a large amount of testimony covering Orchard's credibility, the dispute as to the time Orchard sold his interest in the Hercules mine, the treatment of Jack Simpkins while a prisoner in the Idaho "bull-pen," another motive for the murder of Detective Lytle Gregory, the whipping of men friendly to the strikers at Cripple Creek, and circumstances under which the processes of the civil courts at Telluride were disregarded by the military authorities.

The defense swore that on the day the Bunker Hill mine was destroyed Harry Orchard was at Mullan, eighteen miles from Wardner. They placed him in a poker game, and Patrick McHale, a barkeeper, swore that he sat in the game. By various means, the defense showed that McHale is a gambler, and that he endeavored to break this testimony, but both witnesses held to their stories.

Frank Hough, who said he was sent to the "bull-pen" in North Idaho in 1898, for reasons that he never knew, described conditions in that military prison, and told how he and the soldiers desired Jack Simpkins to stand for six hours in the hot sun of a July day, refused him water and kept him up by menacing him with bayonets.

He says that when the deportees tried to use the injunction to get back to their homes, the Governor returned the district to the control of military forces, and that the order of habeas corpus and the subsequent order for arrest for its disobedience against the military authorities in the case of Charles H. Meyer were both disregarded by General Sherman Bell and Captain Bulkeley Wells.

Annual Sermon. Rev. W. L. Ball, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist Church, will deliver the annual sermon before the Woman's Guild, of the First Baptist Church, this evening at 8:15 o'clock. At the same hour Rev. Dr. George W. McChesney, pastor of the First Church, will preach for Mr. Ball at Tabernacle Church.

HOLT IS WINNER, DEFEATING ASHBY

Incumbent from Thirty-Sixth District Nominated to Succeed Himself.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NEWPORT NEWS, VA., June 29.—In the Democratic primaries here to-day a comparatively light rain was a constant throughout the day. In the Thirty-sixth Senatorial District, comprising Newport News and the counties of Elizabeth City, Warwick and York, State Senator Saxton W. ## STEAM TURBINE IN ONE BATTLESHIP

Newport News Company to Build Dreadnaught With Parsons System.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.—Secretary McCall to-day allotted contracts for the construction of the two American "Dreadnaught" battleships, the interesting point of his decision being the rejection of the Navy Department's plans and the acceptance of the more progressive ideas of the private shipbuilding firms, involving the use of steam turbines. So as to afford fair opportunity for comparison of the relative merits of the British and American turbine systems, the Secretary awarded one contract—that to the Newport News Shipbuilding Company—with the purpose of trying the British device known as the Parsons turbine. This is conditioned upon certain modifications by the contractors to meet the ideas of the department; otherwise they must build the ship with reciprocating engines, under the department's plans. In the first case they will receive $4,000,000, and in the latter case only $3,987,000. The contract for the other battleship was awarded to the Fore River Shipbuilding Company, of Quincy, Mass., at $4,377,000, providing for the machinery of the American Curtis turbine type. The Newport News company undertakes to build their ship in thirty-six months, and the Fore River company in thirty-four and a half months.

TO RESTORE NAME OF JEFFERSON DAVIS

Congressman Meyer Will Work to Have It Put on Cabin John Bridge.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.—Representative Adolph Meyer, of Louisiana, to-day announced his intention of making an effort to have the name of Jefferson Davis reinscribed on the bridge which spans Cabin John's Creek, about six miles above Washington.

Construction of the bridge was started at the time that Mr. Davis was Secretary of War, and upon its completion his name and those of a number of others who were identified with the war were inscribed on the surface.

Mr. Davis's name was erased during President Lincoln's first administration by direction of Caleb Smith, then Secretary of the Interior.

At their recent convention in Richmond, the daughters of the Confederate army added a resolution asking for the restoration of Mr. Davis's name, and, responsive to this, Mr. Meyer will take active steps to have it brought about, if possible. Whether he will do this through the War Department or seek congressional sanction he has not determined.

REV. DR. EATON DIES SUDDENLY

WAS RECENTLY IN RICHMOND

Attended Southern Baptist Convention and Went from Here to Exposition.

REV. DR. T. T. EATON.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LOUISVILLE, KY., June 29.—News was received here to-day announcing the death of Rev. Dr. T. T. Eaton, pastor of the Walnut Street Baptist Church, and editor of the Western Recorder, at Grand Junction, Tenn.

Dr. Eaton was stricken with apoplexy in the waiting-room of the depot at Grand Junction last night while waiting for a train to go to Blue Mountain, Miss., where he was to deliver a series of lectures before the Chattanooga, which is in session there.

When he left this city he was in perfect health, and the first intimation that was received of his illness was the telegram sent to the Western Recorder to-day, stating that he had sustained a stroke of apoplexy at Grand Junction, and that he was in a serious condition. Immediately upon receipt of the telegram Rev. W. F. Harvey, of the Western Recorder, and Mr. Ed. C. Farmer, Dr. Eaton's son-in-law, left for Grand Junction.

News Received Here. A telegram received here last yesterday afternoon by Rev. Dr. H. Pitt, editor of the Religious Herald, announced the sudden death of Dr. Eaton, who was one of the most prominent figures in the denomination in the South.

News of the death of Dr. Eaton will come as a great shock to Richmond people, by whom he was well known. He attended the recent sessions of the Southern Baptist Convention in this city, and participated in some of the important discussions that engaged the attention of that body. He went from here to the Jamestown Exposition to attend the meeting of the American Baptist Association. From the exposition he returned to his home in Louisville, Ky. It is supposed that he was at Grand Junction on a business trip when suddenly stricken.

Sketch of His Life. Thomas Treadwell Eaton was born November 18, 1845, in Murfreesboro, Tenn. His father was Hon. Joseph Eaton, LL. D., and his mother was before her marriage Miss Esther M. Treadwell, for some years the editor of the Aurora.

Dr. Eaton studied in Murfreesboro until after the death of his father, which occurred in 1859. Shortly after this he entered Colgate University, of which his uncle, George W. Eaton, LL. D., was at that time president.

In 1861 Dr. Eaton left college and returned to the South on account of the outbreak of the war, and soon after he enlisted in the Seventh Tennessee Cavalry, and served with distinction under General Forrest. After the war Dr. Eaton resumed his studies at Washington and Lee University, where he was graduated in 1867.

Dr. Eaton has served the First Church, in Chattanooga, Tenn., the First Baptist Church, in Petersburg, Va., and the Walnut Street Baptist Church, in Louisville, Ky. For some years he has been in addition to his work at the Walnut Street Church, the editor of the Western Recorder, a leading Baptist weekly.

One of the Largest. The congregation of the Walnut Street Church has under the pastorate of Dr. Eaton one of the largest white churches in any denomination in the South, having had at one time over 1,500 members. During Dr. Eaton's pastorate over four thousand people were made to the church, and large colonies were sent out, at one time 111 letters being granted to a party establishing a new congregation. The present membership of the Walnut Street Church is over 1,500.

In 1880 Dr. Eaton received the degree of D. D. from Washington and Lee University, and in 1888 the degree of LL. D. from the Southwestern Baptist University.

On the occasion of the centennial of the First Baptist Church in Richmond, some years ago, Dr. Eaton was one of the speakers, delivering an historical address of great value at that time.

Several volumes of his sermons and addresses have been published. He was one of a number of prominent Baptist ministers to contribute to the book of sermons known as the "Southern Baptist Pulpit," a centennial volume issued some years ago.

"I was advised to try a change of climate, which, of course, would mean a loss of my position, when fortunately one of my friends advised me to use Peruna."

"Peruna has done so much for me that I feel it my duty to tell you and those afflicted of its merits. I was a sufferer from indigestion and biliousness until I could only attend to my
